

SONKOMUSIC is a modern international storyteller. In his world-popmusic, he draws deeply from his rich and colourful life experience.

Having led recording studios in Westafrika and India, produced music for TV, worked as a session musician for world-renowned artists like Randy Crawford, Shari Belafonte and others, SONKOMUSIC today produces his own music that tackles important political and human-rights issues. Respect, diversity and personal development are major themes in his songs.

SONKOMUSIC represents a contemporary and exciting crossover between pop, jazz, african and arabic music. The sound and ideas are boundless! His deep, mature voice is touching, capturing hearts and minds in an instant.

The Berlin-based SONKOMUSIC band consists of six world-class musicians with numerous national and international performing credits.
